Introduction to Windows and Web Applications in C#

Assignment 8

Create a data application:

- Create a database.
- Add at least one table to the database.
- The table must have an ID column that is an identity field.
- The table must include a text column, a numeric column, and a date column (in addition to the ID column).
- Display the data in a Windows Forms application.